

BIO: REVISED 4-2016

Mark Breslin is an author, speaker, CEO and influencer at the highest levels of business in North America. He has spent decades advising CEOs and senior leaders in business, government, labor and non-profit arenas in both the U.S. and Canada. As a top rated public speaker and strategist, he has spoken live to more than 300,000 people. His five bestselling books have sold hundreds of thousands of copies and have improved leadership, accountability, profitability, innovation and engagement for organizations and individuals.

Influencing groups from 50 to 5000 at a time, Mark drives home the lessons needed for positive change that create profound results. Noted in the New York Times, major trade magazines and frequently interviewed by media outlets focusing on business, his imprint and influence have been widely recognized.

He has served for three decades as CEO of one of the largest trade associations of its type in the United States. He was educated at San Francisco State University in Industrial Design and has taught at both Sonoma State and Golden Gate Universities in California.
